This 160-acre sanctuary in the pristine Glory Hills presents a rare opportunity to create your own private estate and/or working ranch. Here, country living meets the convenience of being just 10 minutes northwest of Stony Plain. Rolling hills sweep down to a clear, spring-fed deep lake perfect for swimming, fishing, or paddling. With recently constructed, high quality fences, this quarter was used for cattle grazing last year. As the grazing area has included the open area of the 40 acres adjacent to the south, some additional fencing may be required to complete the separation of the two properties. The landscape is a picturesque mix of mature woodlands and sprawling meadows, offering several prime building sites for your dream home—each featuring panoramic views. Located at the dead end of RGE Road 12 amid sparse surrounding development, this property provides the ideal combination of accessibility and privacy.
